See the City, Feel the Culture – Accra Tour

Walking Level: ModerateHighlights: DuBois Center, Jamestown, Kwame Nkrumah Memorial ParkTransfers: Hotel to sightseeing sites and back

After breakfast, start your day exploring Accra, Ghana's century-old capital, with a visit to the DuBois Center for Pan-African Culture, the former home of Dr. W.E.B. DuBois. Then, take a drive or stroll through Jamestown, the colonial heart of the city, where you'll see the historic Ussher and James Forts, built by the Dutch (1650) and British (1673), along with the iconic Lighthouse that once guided ships into Accra's harbor.

Next, visit the Kwame Nkrumah Memorial Park and Museum, honoring Ghana's first post-independence President, followed by a stop at the Independence Arch and the historic Osu Christiansborg Castle.

Experience Ghana's artistic traditions at Nungua, where craftsmen create fantasy coffins shaped like fish, cars, and more—symbolizing the professions of the departed. After lunch (at your own expense), immerse yourself in local creativity at the Arts and Craft Market, where treasures from across Ghana and West Africa await.

Later, you'll return to the hotel

Day 3:A Journey Woven in Tradition – Accra to Kumasi via Ashanti Craft Villages*Walking Level: ModerateHighlights: Cultural Center, Ashanti craft villagesTransfers: Accra to Kumasi and for sightseeing

After breakfast, check out and depart Accra via the forest belt to Kumasi, the seat of the Ashanti Empire, which was built on a similar basis as the Dahomey Empire, i.e., through wars. Upon arrival, visit the Cultural Center, featuring the Prempeh II Jubilee Museum and various studios of brass makers, potters, drum carvers, and batik makers. Then, take a tour of the Ashanti craft villages to observe craftsmen at work and purchase souvenir gift items. These villages include Ahwiaa, where woodcarvers produce Ashanti stools, fertility dolls, and walking sticks; Ntonso, where Adinkra cloth is processed; and Bonwire, where Kente cloth is woven. Kente, a very colorful fabric, is traditionally worn on festive and significant occasions such as marriage ceremonies and child naming ceremonies.

Day 4 :

Step Into Ashanti Culture – Discover Kumasi

Walking Level: Active

Highlights: Royal Manhyia Palace, Ashanti traditions

Transfers: Hotel to sightseeing sites and back

After breakfast, embark on a fascinating tour of Kumasi, the heart of the Ashanti Kingdom. Visit the Royal Manhyia Palace Museum, once the residence and office of former Ashanti Kings. Here, centuries of regal history come to life through relics and artifacts dating back to 1700. Witness the grand arrival of King Nana Osei-Tutu II, carried in a palanquin, as he takes his place in the state. Experience the powerful tradition of Ashanti subchiefs reaffirming their oath of allegiance, all adorned in magnificent traditional regalia. The atmosphere is vibrant, with the public dressed in black and white, rhythmic drumming, and spirited dancing enhancing the celebration. On this special day, the King also welcomes distinguished guests and receives ceremonial gifts, making it an unforgettable cultural spectacle.

Day 5:

From Royal Roots to Historic Shores – Kumasi to Elmina, Assin Manso & Cape Coast Castle

Walking Level: Active

Highlights: Assin Manso, Cape Coast Castle

Transfers: Kumasi to Assin Manso and then to Elmina

After breakfast, depart from Kumasi to Elmina en route visit to Assin Manso Ancestral Slave River Park. Assin Manso Ancestral Slave River Park was one of the largest slave markets for gathering people to sell into slavery during the infamous trans-Atlantic slave trade. It is especially worth seeing as a prelude to viewing Cape Coast slave castle since you will be following the route taken by the ancestors of many African Americans.

Then, step back in time at Cape Coast Castle, built in 1667 by the Swedes and later controlled by the British. A key site of the transatlantic slave trade, this UNESCO World Heritage Site houses the West African Historical Museum. The guide will take you through the governor’s quarters, condemned cells, and the ‘Door of No Return’.

Later, return to the hotel.

Into the Wild, Into the Culture – Kakum National Park & Naming Ceremony

Walking Level: Active

Highlights: Canopy Walkway, Naming Ceremony

Transfers: Hotel to Kakum National Park and local village

After breakfast, begin your journey from the hotel to the lush Kakum National Park, home to the stunning Canopy Walkway—a 350-meter suspended bridge soaring 60 meters above the rainforest floor. Experience an exhilarating walk amidst the treetops, surrounded by the beauty of the Attandaso Reserve.

In the afternoon, we visit a local village for a courtesy call on the chiefs, queen mothers, and community elders. The ceremony begins with the sacred pouring of libation, a ritual to welcome you home—to the land where your ancestors once lived, where your heritage thrives. As rhythmic drumming and vibrant dancing surround you, you'll immerse yourself in the essence of Ghanaian village life. The long-awaited moment arrives—you will receive your true African name, bestowed upon you by the community elders. Rooted in tradition, your name is determined by the day of the week you were born or your sibling's order, symbolizing your ancestral connection. This deeply personal experience is a highlight of the journey, evoking a strong emotional bond to your heritage. After an afternoon of celebrati

Day 7 : Where History Echoes – Elmina Castle & Journey to Accra

Walking Level: Moderate

Transfers: Hotel to Elmina Castle and back to Accra

Highlights: Elmina Castle, fishing harbor

After breakfast and check-out, explore Elmina Castle, Ghana’s oldest European monument, built in 1482 by the Portuguese. Initially a trade settlement, it later became a key hub in the Atlantic Slave Trade. The Dutch seized it in 1637, controlling the Gold Coast until the British took over in 1871. Today, both Elmina and Cape Coast Castles stand as UNESCO World Heritage Sites, preserving this powerful history. Next, take a short walk around the vibrant fishing harbor, where traditional dugout canoes line the shore, and the local fish market buzzes with daily life. After this enriching experience, you’ll be transferred back to Accra.
